Fall Festival: Committee Roles.

Who owns what this year (2026), and who to ask for tips, so next year's team can pick up each role with confidence.

How to use this: the Fall Festival runs on a handful of clear roles. Each one lists its 2026 lead and a person to reach out to for a "how did you do it" conversation. Filling the contact blanks now makes next year's hand-off easy.

Games: Repair & Build

2026 LEAD Cameron Gibson
TEAM Dave Cook, TK Stanley, and one more dad (contact via Mary Nell or Amy)

- At the start of the school year, audit the wooden games: ready to go, needs a fix, or retire.
- Repair the old games and build new ones, always keeping weight, storage, and durability in mind. Favor wooden builds, which the school prefers.
- New games are sponsor-funded (a family or a local business), not paid from the PTA budget.

→ When the final games are set, share the count and list with the planning team so Game Management can prep the day-of layout.

Game Management (Logistics & Day-Of)

2026 LEAD Denise

- Own the game map: plan where each game, inflatable, and concession sits. See the Festival Layout Map on the last page.
- Handle candy donations and purchases for game prizes.
- Recruit and schedule the volunteers who man each game on festival day. (General volunteer outreach is a separate role, below.)

→ Two layout plans are being prepared with Denise, drawing on years of event history.

Inflatables

2026 LEAD Shellie Teague

- Book the inflatables for the festival (bounce houses, slides, and so on).
- Budget guidance: about $3,000 two years ago, $1,300 this year. Confirm the budget with the PTO President before booking.

- Recruit general festival volunteers across all the shifts (separate from the day-of game staffing Denise handles).
- Coordinate high school student volunteers. Reaching out to local high schools is a great service-hours opportunity for them and extra hands for us.
